There is an ongoing very busy caseload of complex applications within the Planning Development Management teams, including two major applications submitted in Q1 2018-19 which have yet to be determined and a further major application submitted in Q1 of 2019-20. The range of applications include tourism proposals, housing applications and mixed use developments. The statistics for the second half of 2018-19 have not yet been published by the Scottish Government and the figures provided are estimates. A staff member in the Performance and Support team (dealing with smaller applications) left during Q4, and this resulted in workload capacity issues and contributed to the increase in time taken to determine householder applications.

A software issue affecting the public consultation resulted in the consultation period being extended. This means the draft Core Paths Plan will now come to Board in September 2019, with expected submission to Scottish Government soon after.

The good weather at the start of the season resulted in a spike in visitor numbers, and camping in the National Park. This, along with a lack of widespread public knowledge of the new byelaws, is reflected in the relatively high number of camping byelaw offences for this time of year.

While sickness levels are up when compared with the same period last year, the overall trend prior to this is down from 11 days per person 2017/18 to 7 days per person in 2018/19, our lowest level since 2013/14. Our aim is to reduce numbers to below 7 days.
