Ascent:	96m
Type:	Suitable for all types of bike
Signage:	NCN 7

Route Description

An enjoyable ride through Strathyre Forest with mountains, lochs and wildlife. Scenic high points include Loch Voil linked to Loch Lubnaig by the River Balvag, Ben Ledi (879m) and the pretty villages of Balquhiddier (home to the grave of Rob Roy McGregor) and Strathyre.

From the car park on the southern edge of Strathyre, join the NCN 7 cycle path for a short distance towards the village and a gate at the narrow road crossing.

Take a left and then next right, follow the rural road into Balquhiddier. On entering the village follow the road to the right and straight on until a junction with Route 7. Turn right and follow the cycle path back to Strathyre.

Please take care on the section of the road between Balquhiddier village hall and the intersection with the cycle path heading south, back to Strathyre. This road can be busy, especially in the summer months.

Facilities

At Strathyre, Kingshouse and Balquhiddier there are food and drink establishments, village shops and toilets. Cycle parking and accommodation are also available.
