Comment Reasons:

Comment: I am not clear as to the purpose. The building shown on the plan is more of a shed which I think houses the lawnmower which is used on a regular basis to cut the grass on the agricultural land. Of note are the following

The boundary fence between the agricultural land and the garden land which was recently converted from agricultural has been removed and a new fence with a pedestrian gate erected on the old residential boundary as part of the recent physical subdivision of the 2 cottages. The cottages are for sale. Earth and stones have been deposited to form a track or road base adjoining my boundary and the hedge and other growth removed to expose the fence.

The existing track shown on the submitted plan does not appear to exist.
